SPECIAL REPORT: PICTURE THIS 1980

Chapman High School
Chapman, Kansas 67431
USD #473
Volume #24

This picture in my mind —
Unpainted, free from sweeping, captive lines;
Even to sketch it would be impossible.
Constant colorful droplets splatter
It seems my eyes are blind.
They cannot touch this picture in my mind.

12

This picture in my mind
Feels like bumpy pages of braille
That tickle fingers with Ridges of memories.
I see my hands lightly stroking
All those yesterday dreams.
Laughter bounces back at me from these Pages; dancing with blind eyes.
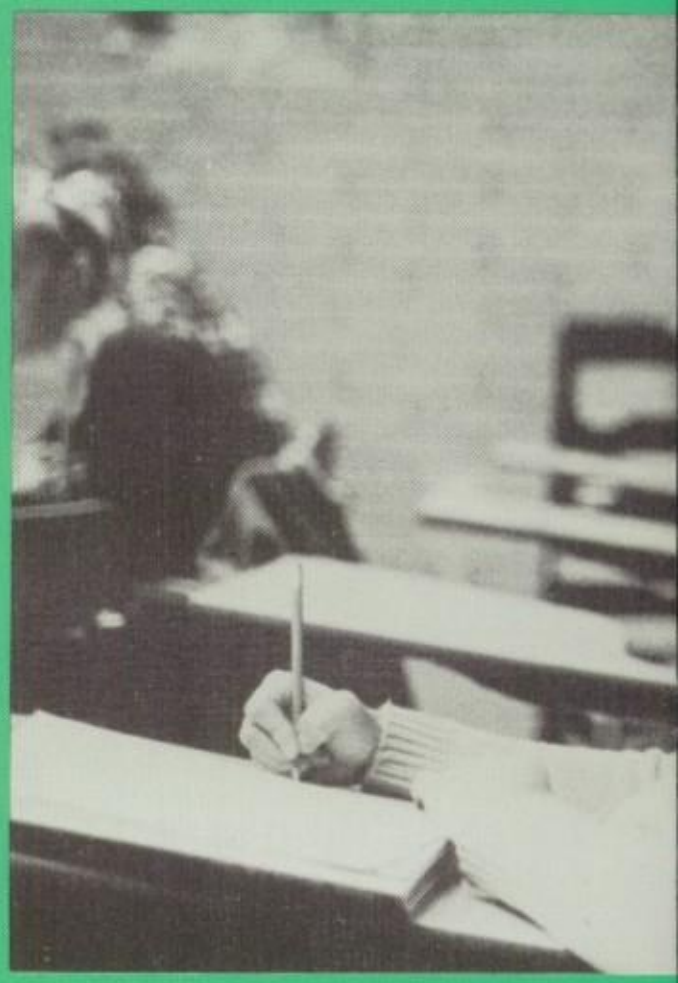
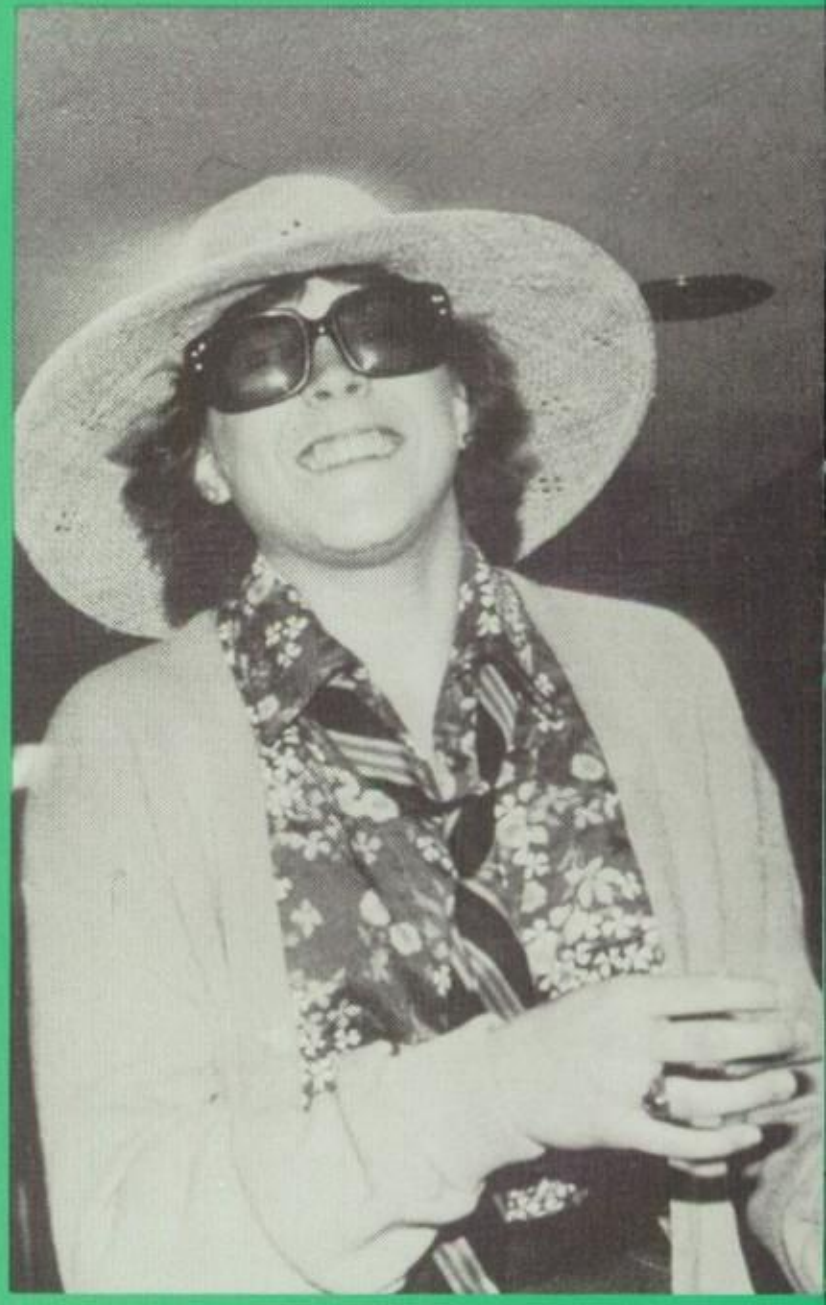
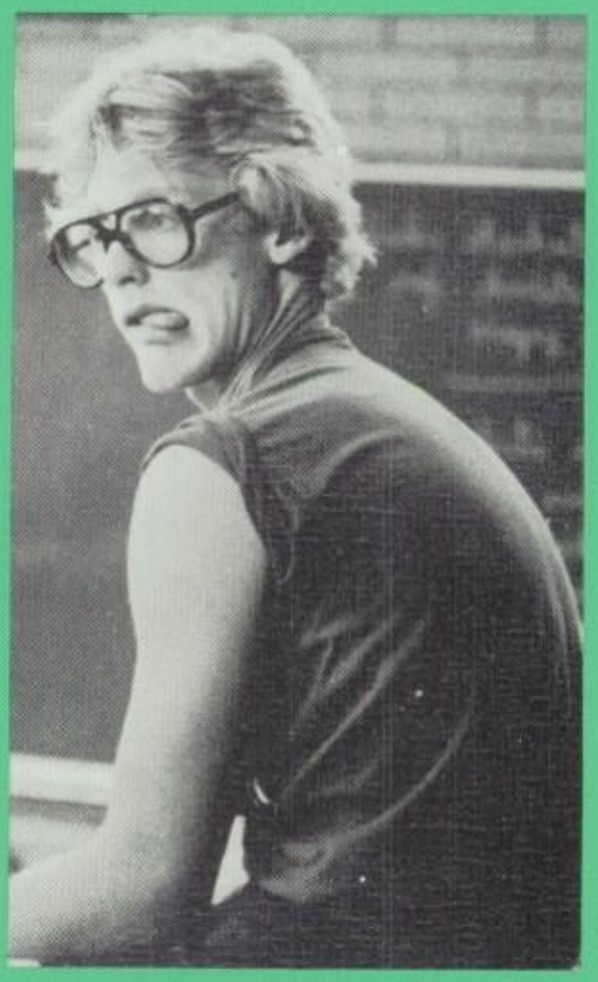
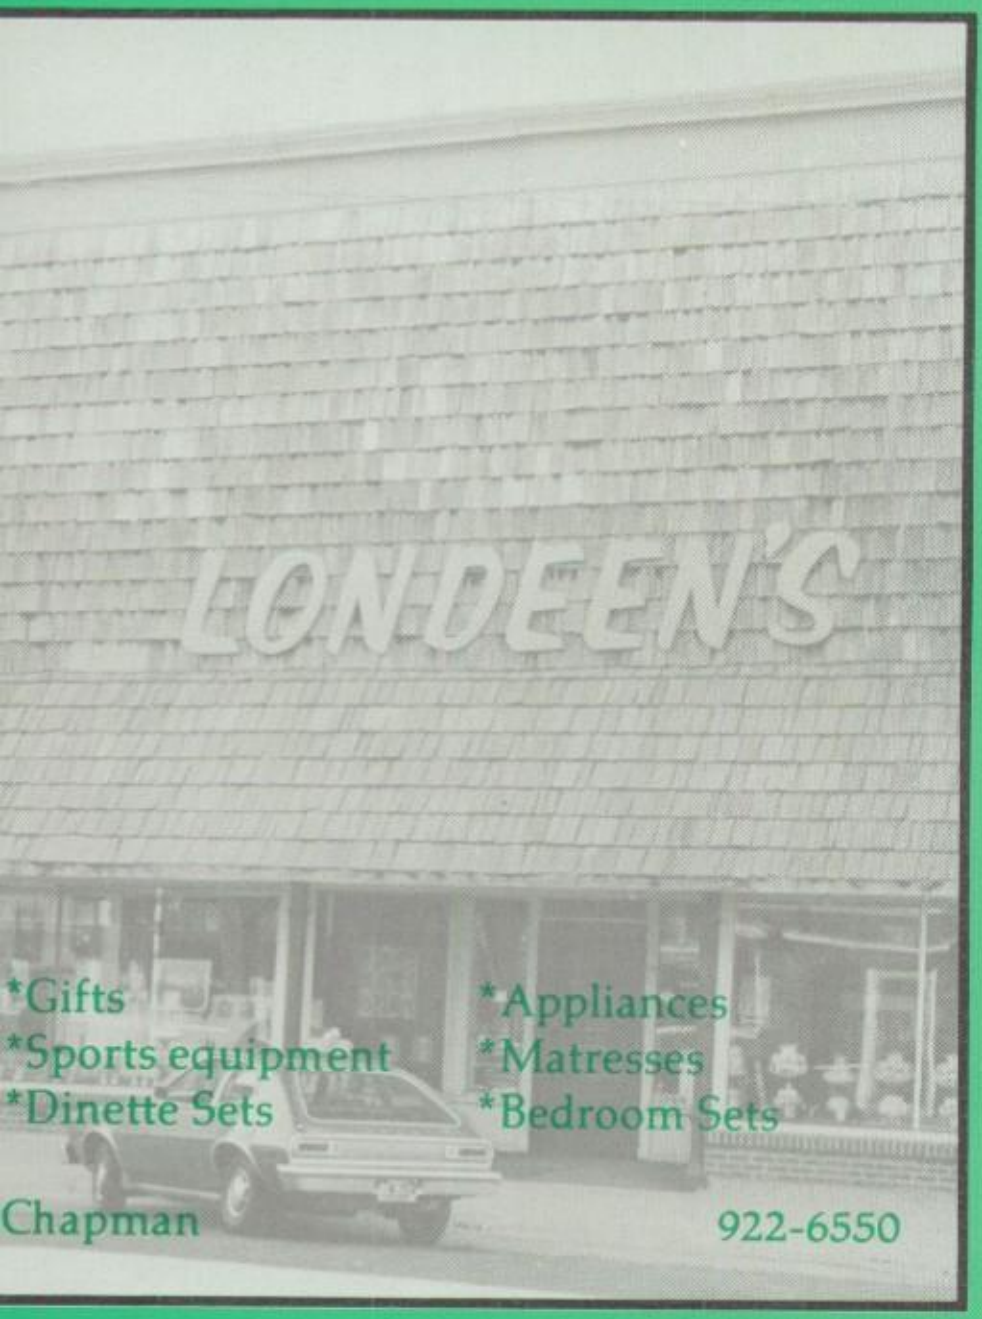
If only I could touch them once again;
Pull them from this hopeless singing page.









This picture in my mind
Brings back to me
Slamming doors and crowded hallways,
Colorless brick walls and carpet —
Green grass imitation.
Lectures sit on deaf ears and Flatten imagination.
Dew drop doodles make Margin flowers watered with Patient listening;
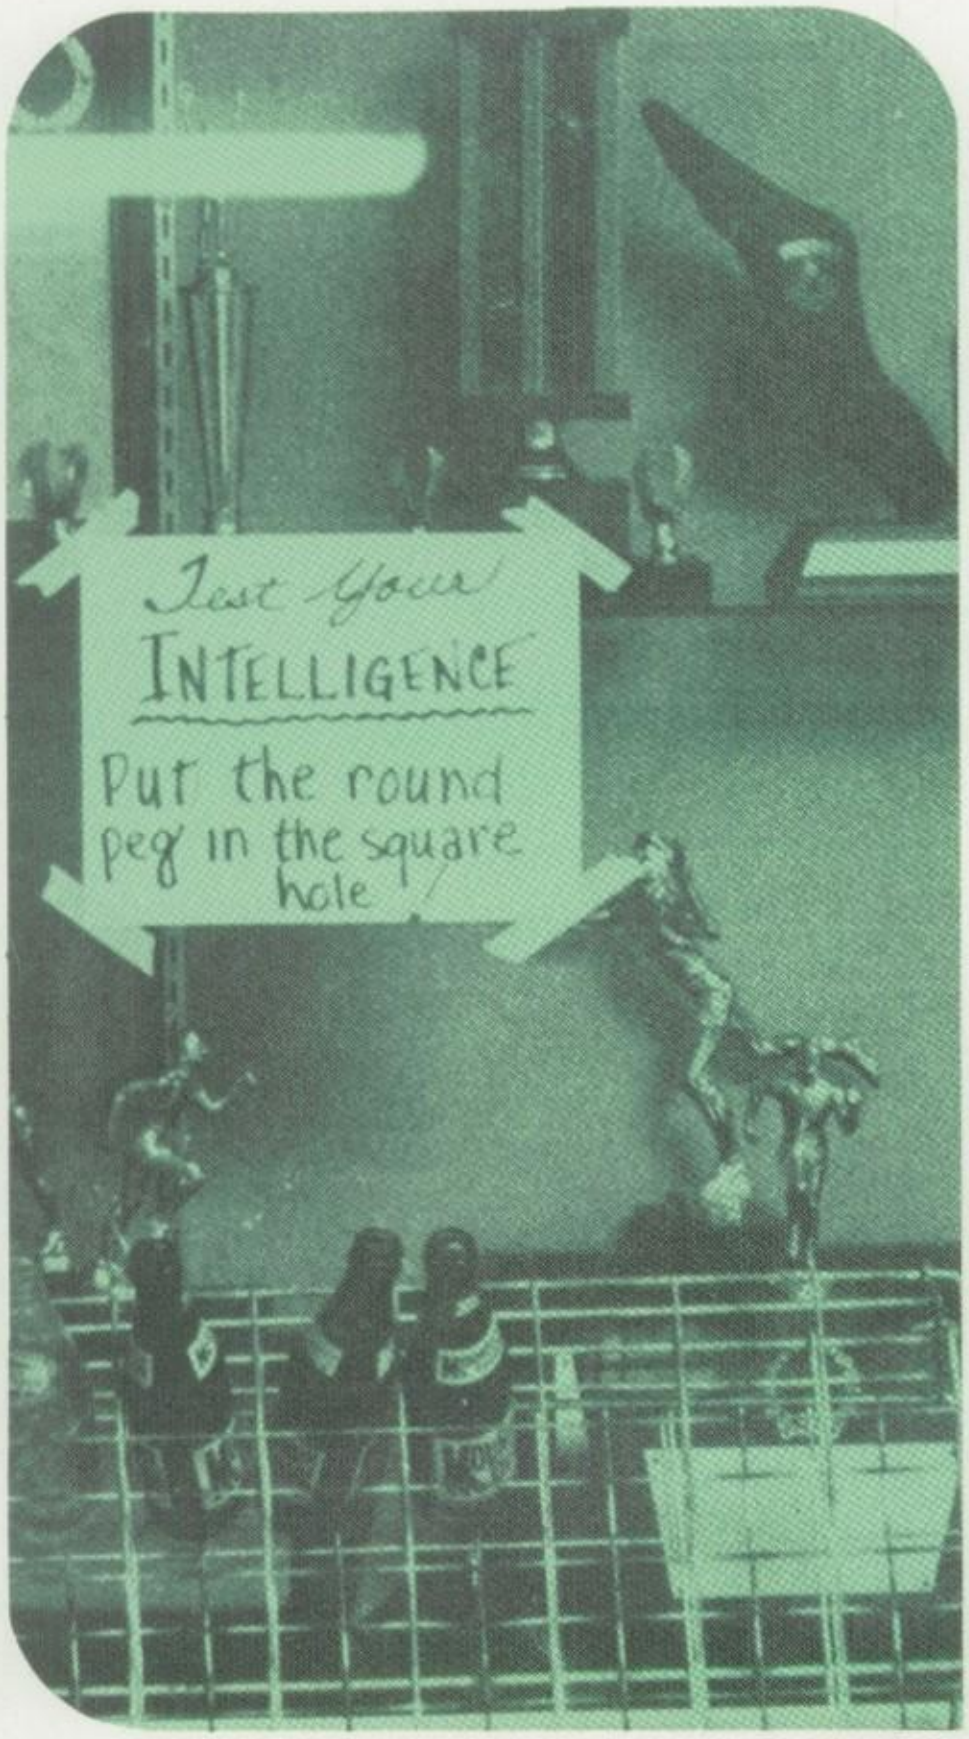
Blue ink boredom.



This picture in my mind
Of teacher timely, neat and clean,
Organized perfect machine.
Another teacher mellow serene,
Sort of nice,
Made us think twice.
Best of the best — Worst of the worst.
No photograph captures every mood.
No memory retains each word.

"y RAT Is Enthusiastic

"You say . . . I say . . . All you scum and riffraff . . ." These phrases might not mean anything to the underclassmen at CHS, but every senior knows whom they come from.

Richard Allen Traskowsky, more fondly called Mr. T or RAT, is one of the most energetic and enthusiastic teachers at Chapman High School. Mr. T has been teaching American Government for seniors for 18 years.

As with any outstanding person, Mr. T has characteristics of his personality that create a legendary figure. His chalk writing quickness will remain with each senior who has experienced cramps in his or her writing hand. The subtle slip of a false idea into his lecture — which he does merely to see if students are paying attention — catches many seniors in his carefully thought out trap.

t 80th Day Causes Commotion

The 80th day of school involved quite a commotion with seniors and also with Mr. Dale Relihan and Mr. Dick Traskowsky. Early in the morning seniors conglomerated in Senior Hall and signs saying "80th day of school" and "All Seniors to T's room!" were plastered on the walls. When the bell rang a crowd of giggling, excited seniors marched into Mr. T's room and put up a sign saying "American Socialists Working Party."

First hour is a planning period for Mr. T, and he was open-mouthed with surprise. He quickly snapped back to his usual vigorous self and shouted for all seniors to get to class. This order was responded to with a unison "Rem, rem, rem" from meditating seniors. Mr. Relihan then joined the group and attempted to uproot everyone. Seniors gave a whole-hearted senior cheer and marched obediently out of the room.

The group then attempted to storm the office for late passes. This storm was met by an even greater storm — Mr. Relihan. The group of seniors disbanded and went loudly to their first hour classes.

Seniors in first hour College Prep English added their own touch to the morning festivities by marching into Mr. Ron Park's classroom singing "God Bless America" and waving the American flag.

Smile and Pull Out Your Wallet

If seniors had to name the most nerve-wracking first-semester activity, they would surely say senior pictures. Most seniors were filled with both delight and fear when their time came to face the camera. After spending many days or weeks deciding what to wear, it was very important that things weren't messed up while posing.

Each smile was put on carefully and perfectly. When the long line dwindled to the Z's, it was certain that everyone from A through L was already anticipating the return of their proofs.

When proofs arrived, swarms of buzzing, bustling seniors clustered around Mr. Dick Trakowsky's desk. After each senior saw his proofs, he was surely to blurt out, "My hair wasn't right," or "Do I really look that bad?" Of course, the people who made the most noise always turned out to have the best pictures — it never failed.

The proofs were then taken home and seniors filled out order blanks, indicating number and type of photos wanted. The prices per senior ranged from around $45.00 to $180.00. The average was around $90.00 for each senior. Mr. Traskowsky calculated the amount paid collectively by seniors and came up with a grand total of over $11,000.00.

This seems almost astronomical — just for photographs!! When the finished pictures themselves arrived seniors once again flocked to Mr. T's room and paid for their pictures. Once again there were the usual groans of, "Why didn't he retouch my face more?"

All in all though, seniors were usually pleased with the outcome and began trading wallet photos madly — there seems to be an unwritten contest to see who can get the most photos of everyone else. Since so much money was spent on senior pictures, it was not unlikely to ask how smart it was to buy $20.00 worth of wallet photos and give them all away. Mr. T said, "It is stupid to trade pictures with everyone, because those pictures will end up sitting in dusty drawer someday."

The fact remains that seniors continued to pour thousands of dollars into pictures. This left only one alternative — smile big and pull out your wallet to pay for it.

College Prep Christmas Cutie Crowned

Seniors in College Prep English greeted the Christmas season with a festive new tradition — the crowning of a College Prep Christmas Cutie. The only qualifications for this honor were to be a member of College Prep and female.

Each class debated the reason for the contest, and all came up with the obvious answer that there was no reason. Some members of the classes were confused with the contest and its meaning, but Mr. Ron Parks insisted that it was just good fun. The mentioning of fun satisfied the students, who then voted for whom they thought would make the best College Prep Cutie for their class.

This contest was not without awards. Mr. Parks made horehound candy for the class to enjoy and also composed a poem for the winner, which he read aloud to her. The poem read:

Thou art a dove amongst crows;
A gentle caress amongst these vile blows,
A rose amongst thorns,
A halo amongst horns.
As beautiful, rare, and sweet as a summer's day,
Thou art superior to these buffoons in every way.
Oh, truly we exhault thee in all thy beauty,
Our beloved, our Christmas Cutie.

The winners were Nini Koland, first hour; Julie Wilson, second hour; and Sandy Hettenbach, fourth hour. They were honored with the above awards, plus the opportunity to wear their gold cardboard crowns all day.

Seniors seemed to enjoy this unique celebration and Mr. Parks no doubt looked upon the event as something promising to look forward to next year.

Senior Play Covers Timely Topic

"The Late Great Me was a well written play with a worthwhile message," said director Dennis Maxwell.

The play is based on the lives of Geri Peters and her family and Dave Townsend and his family. Geri is a 15-year-old high school student with few friends. Flattered when a new student, Dave, takes a liking to her, Geri decides to keep his attention by sharing one of Dave's avid interests — drinking. The play deals with the problems drinking creates in their families and gives some possible alternatives.

Mr. Maxwell commented, "Such topics need to be raised by high school students and if parents are finding it difficult to accept it they are likely not in touch with teens today. This play was a learning experience and that is what it is all about."

Governor Attends Class Night

"A Bouquet of Entertainment" opened its curtains on a sellout crowd. One of the brighter highlights was the attendance of Governor John Carlin, his daughter Lisa, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carlin. This is the first Class Night any Kansas governor has ever attended. Following the show Governor Carlin said, "I'm glad to see that you seniors have carried on a fine tradition here at Chapman. It was a real quality show."

Class Night was divided into three acts: "Bouquet of Roses," "Bouquet of Fun" and "Bouquet of Gospel Music." It was directed by Mr. Don Miller for the thirty-second year, and he was assisted by Mrs. Marlo Zumbrunn. This was the last year Mr. Miller would be involved with Class Night as he was retiring. "There are mixed feelings — I have a great deal of both joy and sadness because there are many things I thoroughly enjoy. I have no doubt that I will miss teaching."

This year's show was longer than past shows because of the addition of many talented "years ago" numbers. Rita Longhofer from California presented the ten year number. On Friday night the seniors presented Mr. Miller with a director's chair and Mrs. Zumbrunn with an engraved plaque to show appreciation for their time and support. Directors also received one dozen roses.

"I'm very proud of our Class Night because of the involvement and enthusiasm we have. The stage, light crew, and cast all have come together to create something special and dynamic. Everyone has done a great job," said class president Julie Wilson.

Musical Interests Begin at Age 5

Keith Malsbury, junior at C.H.S., has an intense interest in music. He has been involved in Mixed Chorus, Choir, and Creative Musicianship. He has also played in a band called "Mirage". Accompanying Keith were Dee Smith on keyboards, Kalen Bebermeyer on bass guitar, and Bruce Hoisington on drums.

Keith first got interested in music when he was five years old. His father would always play records and say "Listen to this".

"It's the only thing that has kept my interest," says Malsbury. He has been in the band since he was a freshman, and he plans to start his own band when he graduates from high school.

Keith said Led Zeppelin, Ted Nugent and Rush have the most influence on what his band plays. He spent twenty hours a week practicing the guitar at home. In the summer he "worked like a dog" to buy his equipment for the band. Most of the equipment they would like to buy is so expensive that they can't afford it.

"If you don't have money, you don't have sound," Keith commented. So most of the equipment they used was from Dee Smith's band, "Showdown."

In the future, Keith would like to go to college and be a sound engineer. This takes six and a half years of college, but Keith thinks it will pay for itself. A sound engineer works on putting albums together for bands and travels with them to live concerts to tape the band. They also set up sound equipment and run sound effects.

"It's like everyone has a dream. Well, this one is my dream."

Juniors Have One Foot in Heaven

Mr. Dennis Maxwell selected One Foot In Heaven by Hartzell Spence for the 1980 Junior Play. The play was presented March 21 and 22. In the play Rev. Spence found the church building coming apart, the congregation split into warring factions and the choir "a cross between the devil's grandmother and a swarm of mountain wildcats." His struggle to build a new church, organize a new choir, and crush intolerance led to a pitched battle among his flock and then the very threat of being dismissed from the clergy.

You're going to stay flat on your back for a few days," says Doctor Romer (John Horner) to Reverend Spence (Barry Pearson), while Mrs. Spence (Laurie Hoffman) and Eileen (Brenda Kelley) look on. 3) Hartzell (Stan Perry) and Eileen dance to Ronny's music. 4) "Where's Hartzell?" asks Ronny (Tom Gillen). 5) "Hartzell made a big hole in our retaining wall and I saw him do it," accuses Georgie (Mike Lisle, left). 6) Reverend Spence is aided by Eileen and Dr. Romer after falling down the cellar stairs.

Quartet Sings Religious Songs

This was the second year for the Sophomore Quartet to perform. As Freshmen, Mr. Don Miller picked the boys for their singing ability out of Mixed Chorus. The quartet consisted of Peter Jackson, Curt Thomas, Jeff Shippy and Jeff Tudor.

Mr. Miller, who directs the group, was in charge of selecting their music. Their music was mostly religious songs, with a few barbershop tunes. The boys enjoyed this music, but would like to attempt some of the Beach Boys songs and slow rock. The members would like to sing in a similar group when they go to college. They all enjoyed singing together and hope to continue as long as they can.

Jeff Shippy sings bass; Jeff Tudor, baritone; Peter Jackson, second tenor; and Curt Thomas, first tenor. They practiced the second half of Men's Chorale and whenever else they had time.

They have sung at Y-Teens, various churches, pancake feeds, recitals and a reunion.

Jackson Excels in Athletics

In the Freshman class of 1979 were several talented students, one student who stood out in the field of athletics. She was Wanda Jackson. When asking her fellow classmates which female athlete stood out in their class, Wanda's name was constantly given.

Wanda has been active in sports since she was eight years old. She first started playing softball and basketball with some neighborhood kids. Her interest in basketball has grown over the past years. She finds the professional games not as interesting as the high school games.

Since her interest in the sport is so keen, it is not surprising that she was the starting forward on the freshman team. When asked what her favorite sport was, Wanda replied, "It's really close between basketball and cross country, but since basketball isn't quite as hard, then I think basketball is my favorite."

Wanda really enjoys running in cross country. In Junior High she ran the mile on the track team. She broke the eighth grade record when she was in the seventh grade and then went on to break her own record in the eighth grade. Since she did so well the previous year, Wanda decided to try her luck at cross country her freshman year.

When asked how the boys felt about her running on the team, she stated that at first they acted like she shouldn't be there. But after she earned the respect of her team-mates they were very helpful and encouraging.

Wanda feels that to run the Boston Marathon would be a real challenge, and she plans to go the 1984 Olympics as a spectator.

School Board, Superintendent Kept Active

School board members and District administrators were busily working throughout the year.

They distributed quarterly bulletins containing information about the schools in the District. Also, numerous reports were prepared for state and federal offices.

Updating school policies, staff and personnel needs for the '80-'81 school year, major improvements for the summer, and commencement an alumni activities were discussed during the various meetings. Also, bids were taken on the replacement of several school vehicles.

Salaries for teachers and employees were discussed and agreed upon by teacher organizations for the following school year.

A budget for the 1980-81 school year was proposed and agreed upon. Approval was given to proceed with the drilling of a well at the football field.

The board reviewed and approved seven semester graduation requests.

1) Mr. Perry and Mr. Root head for home. 2) "His machine is really a time saver," says Mrs. Hoisington. 3) Mrs. Hassler visits a government class. 4) Mrs. Strauss is busy with the records. 5) School Board members, BACK ROW: Max Fuller, Art Kidwell (president), Wayne Baer, Dan Zumbrunn; FRONT ROW: Elaine Hassler (vice-president), Peggy McLaughlin, and Eleanor Correll pose for the camera. Administrators' Interests Vary Administration members at CHS have many different interests. Mr. Dale Relihan likes the outdoors and enjoys gardening, yardwork and golf.

Mrs. Imogene Caughron says "work takes up most of my time . . ." but she enjoys T.V. and just sitting down. She also enjoys sewing and cooking. She started these activities in 4-H.

Mrs. Dorothy Stull was "reared on a farm" and has enjoyed fishing ever since she was a kid. Golf is another favorite hobby because "it's good exercise and good therapy."

CHS Gains Six

Jogging, snowskiing and wood carving are just a few of the many interests of the new teachers at CHS. Mrs. Pam Shuman enjoys refinishing furniture because, "It's so ugly when I start and so beautiful when I finish." This hobby started about seven years ago during a time called "early poverty" when Mrs. Shuman and her husband could not afford new furniture.

"It holds knowledge, strength and a certain peace if you allow yourself to discover that" is the reason Miss Patty Roberts gave for enjoying the outdoors. Miss Roberts also enjoys music, reading and jogging.

"The competition and the fast pace of the game are exhilerating. There's never a dull moment!" is what makes raquetball fun for Mrs. Marlene Swartz. Snowskiing, bicycling, and spending time in the mountains are other favorite pastimes of Mrs. Swartz.

1) Mr. Brad Eckart gives Tim Rutz a hand in Business Math. 2) "Allright, cut the nonsense!" says Miss Patty Roberts to John Beaugh. 3) Mr. Brian Purkeypile gives special instructions to one of his students. 4) "Forget the calories!" says Mrs. Marlene Swartz to her home economics class.

Four Teachers Mark Over 20

Four teachers have taught at CHS for over twenty years. Their hobbies ranged from playing the piano to bowling.

Nevoy Hettenbach bowls because he "enjoys the competition" and "our team members really have a good time together." He also added, "This makes for a fun evening." Mr. Hettenbach has taught at CHS for 22 years.

Mr. Donald H. Miller has collected a figurine from many states, and he hopes "to get one from every state in the future." Mr. Miller retired in the spring of 1980 after 32 years at CHS.

Interests of Mr. Duane A. McCune included traveling and gardening. Mr. McCune started teaching 31 years ago and says "teaching is rewarding to me because it gives me the opportunity to work with the best students in the world and to watch them develop into outstanding citizens in both their home and community."

"I'm not good, but I like to play golf," said Mrs. George McLaughlin. She also enjoyed gardening, traveling, reading and playing the piano. Mrs. McLaughlin has taught at CHS for 28 years.

Faculty Enjoys Projects at Home

Besides teaching faculty members had many different interests including home projects. For example Mrs. Mary Blick enjoyed refinishing furniture. She refinished a refrigerator and has taken a refinishing class. She also enjoyed gardening, baking and playing the piano.

Mr. Forrest Flippo was interested in fuel production. Mr. Flippo and his son were planning to make a fuel plant either last summer (1980) or next fall. His other interests included travel, making farm implements and welding.

Mr. Henry Aguilera liked wall-papering. He enjoyed coordinating different textures and patterns. To do this, painting the trim is sometimes necessary. He also enjoyed collecting art to compliment the different kinds of wallpaper.

Mrs. Marlo Zumbrunn was interested in handicrafts and liked giving some as Christmas gifts. She decorated the upstairs of her home for her son's toy room and bedroom.

Mrs. Betty Krenger enjoyed sewing and quilting. She became interested in quilting through quilting shows and classes. She also gave quilting blocks as Christmas gifts.

Teachers Prefer Outdoor Activities

Several teachers preferred outdoor activities to indoor. The types of activities have a wide range. Skiing, golf, tennis and "spending time out with the kids" were a few favorites of Mr. Tony Frieze.

Mr. John Sanborn listed hiking, traveling and tennis as some of his favorites. Mr. Sanborn has been playing tennis for "about 20 years." Tennis was started at CHS basically because Mr. Sanborn saw "that other teams around the League had it . . ."

Skiing is a favorite sport with Mr. Pete Spratlin. His reasons were, "the challenge of it," and he likes "working with something natural like gravity." His favorite place for skiing is Summit County in Colorado. Mr. Spratlin also enjoys eating, working with wood and photography.

1) Mrs. Janet Yocum reads up on jogging. 2) Mr. Pet Spratlin poses with his baby and wife. 3) Hey, Mr. T, what's for lunch? 4) Mr. Harold Oakleaf helps students.

Gardening Is Great

A few skilled teachers at Chapman enjoyed the art of gardening. As Janis Haugh said, "To can one's food is to preserve one's mind." Janis was the English III teacher at Chapman; she enjoyed gardening in her spare time. Not only is gardening a good way to use time but it is also a good way to save money.

Betty Lewis, who taught typing, has been gardening for 12 years and said that she got started in gardening because she liked to can goods. Also whe she is gardening, she can be outdoors, which she likes very much.

Jeannine Lewis liked to garden just because it is a good way to spend time and can be fun. Both Jeannine and Betty have another hobby related to gardening, eating.

Ron Parks was very much into gardening. Mr. Parts started gardening in college. At that time everyone was feeling independent, and "this was a good way to show it," said Parks. He also liked gardening because it was a good way to exercise. Probably the most important reason Parks gardens was that, "Gardening helps one get in touch with the planet."

Fishing, Hunting, Camping Are Favored

Fishing, hunting and camping were some of the favorite activities for teachers who enjoy the outdoor life.

Mr. Stanley Lewis hunted "most anything that is in season." He said, "I hunt to be outdoors and to enjoy the outdoors" and "I fish not to see how many I can catch but to be outdoors."

Mr. Milton Rawling hunted "mostly to work bird dogs on birds and quail." Mr. Rawlings' favorite hunting place is the Fort Riley reservation. Mr. Rawlings has hunted for about 20 years and likes hunting quail best.

Not only men were active in the outdoors, but also a familiar woman teacher. Mrs. Mary Ann Saulmon's interest in the outdoors has always been important to her. For many years she has been enjoying camping with her husband and a few close friends. Her interest in camping goes back to when they went camping in their car because they didn't own a camper. Over the years they have traveled to Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming and the Dakotas among many other states.

1) Mr. Rawlings listens intensely as a student asks a question. 2) Mrs. Saulmon enjoys a favorite antique piece. 3) Mr. Stull studies drafting's latest and dreams of summer fun.

Maxwell Likes Puppets, Plays

He described himself as dedicated, but anyone else would have described Mr. Dennis Maxwell as colorful. His interests varied from directing plays to making puppets, and he seemed to do well whatever he tried.

This was Maxwell's sixth year of teaching. He said that if he hadn't gone into teaching, he would have liked to try his hand at some sort of media work, possibly directing plays. When asked how he got interested in drama, Maxwell said, "I've always had a love for performance — a critic at the age of ten." Yet Maxwell never wanted to try his hand at becoming an actor.

Writing was another of Mr. Maxwell's talents. "I'd like to test my ability of writing music-lyrics by attempting to sell them," Maxwell stated. A few years ago, he wrote a Christian song that he performed in church frequently. Rumor had it that he was going to have it copyrighted. When asked about this, Maxwell said, "It's sitting at home with a hundred others."

Many students also knew about the Maxwell puppets. Mr. Maxwell enjoyed making puppets and has quite a collection of them. He has also tried his hand at making games and has made large scale versions of such games as Clue and Monopoly. He especially got a kick out of making such characters as Professor Plum and Colonel Mustard.

Mr. Maxwell took an intense interest in all his students, and got to know them all well. Teaching speech and drama classes, he was able to see a side of every student that most people never saw. He livened his classes with Mr. McGoo imitations and pep talks.

In an effort to get rid of the doldrums of activity period, Mr. Maxwell organized Room Five. He invited guest speakers and also taped some of the student talents. Room Five has been very popular since it was first started.

Fondly called "Radar" by a lot of students at CHS, Mr. Maxwell described himself like this, "I'm dedicated to whatever I'm involved in at the time — discontent to remain stagnant."

Stills Fired

Jack Andrews of Provo, Utah, conducted an alcohol still seminar in the Chapman Vo-Ag building Jan. 30-31. This was an actual workshop demonstrating construction of a still and putting it in operation. The stills that were constructed at this school were able to produce four gallons an hour and a maximum of 96 gallons a day. The fuel alcohol is 180-185 proof alcohol.

On the final evening of the workshop a still was fired and fuel-alcholo was produced. Two hundred interested people came to the seminar to see what might be the answer to our energy crisis. This seminar was the only one of its kind conducted at a high school in the State of Kansas.

Matthews Digs Archaeology

Archaeology was a hobby of Assistant Principal Milton Matthews. His great-grandfather used to tell him wild stories that got him interested in history.

While teaching at Goddard Matthews was asked to develop a course for high achievers in the social science field. He was the vice-president of the Kansas State Anthropological Association and has gone on numerous digs with this association. Some of the digs were at Scott City, Lion City and John Redman Reservoir.

Two years ago Matthews helped uncover a floor of a Wichita house which had never been found before. He has found arrowheads and some buffalo skulls. In the local areas he looked for Indian campsites. Flint chips and bones tell if Indians were there.

A few years ago archaeologists found a pit that some Indians had used for cremation. The skulls exploded from the heat and pieces of skull were found. A dollar value cannot be placed on the things found. They have more of a scientific value.

Little trowels were used to help prevent damage to anything found. The space worked on at one time was two meters by two meters. The grass was cut off and the ground shaved off very slowly. One must read the floor as it is shaved.

"I'm really involved because it allows me to be outdoors and also involved in science. This hobby takes a lot of patience, and you must be willing to be uncomfortable," Matthews remarked.

Kiln Built

The new kiln constructed in the west end of the Art Department was completed in 1980 by art teacher Mr. Pete Spratlin and art students.

This kiln, labeled a "down draft-side draft kiln," has five-250,000 BTU natural draft burners. It has approximately 32 cubic feet of space to fire in, and it can reach a temperature of 2400° F. The new kiln is more fuel efficient than the old one located on the northwest corner of the school campus. To save costs Mr. Spratlin used the door, the pyrometer and the thermocouple off the old kiln. The Ag Department did the welding on the framework. Mr. Spratlin commented that the cost was $2000 less than the estimated $7,500.

Units Bought

Unified District 473 purchased new audio-visual equipment this year. Items purchased included a portable color television camera, a portable color video recorder and a portable color TV.

The camera runs off household current or can be recharged and taken outdoors. The recorder can be used with the camera or in taping shows off television. The tapes used may be stored or erased and used over again.

Broadcasting Incorporated

Two students, Kalen Bebermeyer and Kevin Laber, participated in an independent study of radio broadcasting. They broadcasted a five minute program Tuesday through Friday at 3:30 on KABI radio in Abilene. They received no pay, only broadcasting experience. KABI evaluated their broadcasts and offered comments on them. Mr. Dennis Maxwell was their instructor.

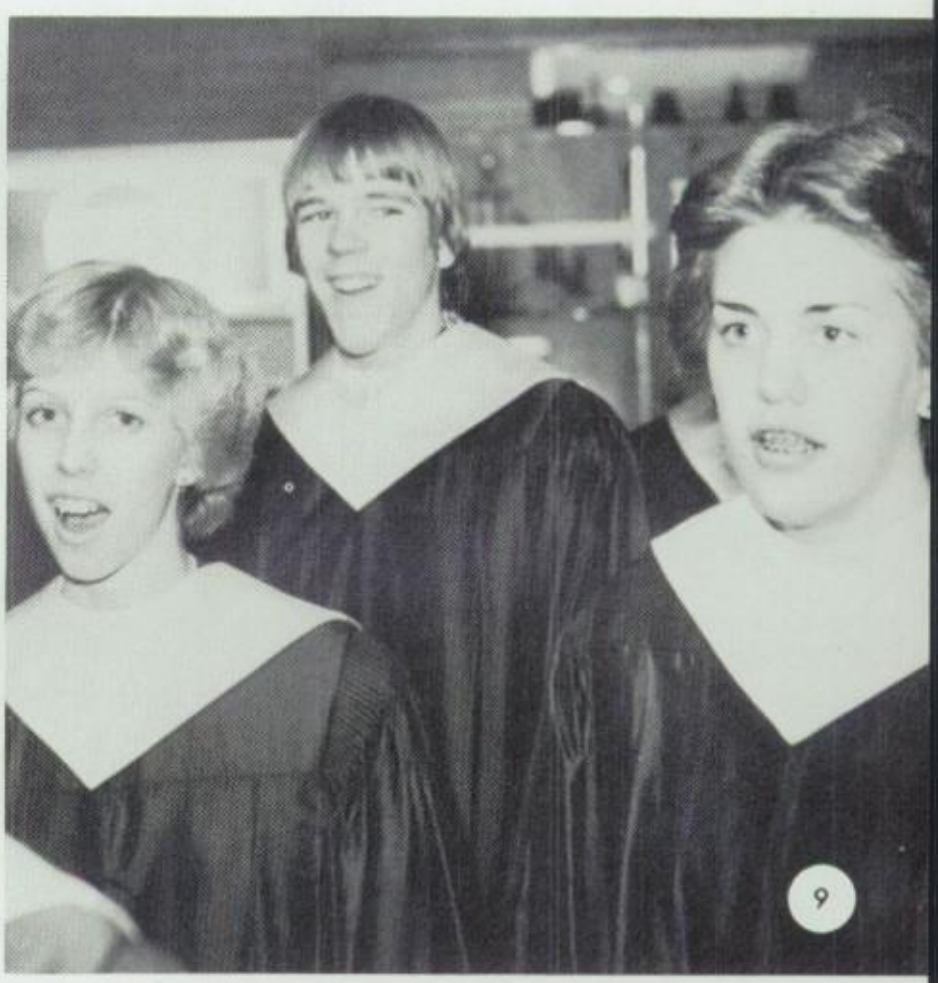
Chapman's Music Department will face a change in teaching staff for the 1980-81 school year as both teachers resigned last Spring. Mrs. Marlo Zumbrunn has stopped teaching to spend more time raising her children. Mr. Don Miller left the teaching staff after 32 years at CHS. He planned to travel and teach private lessons in his home.

Once again Mrs. Zumbrunn and Mr. Miller have had a very active year heading up the CHS Music Department. There were five music classes including Men's Chorale, Girls' Chorale, Mixed Chorus, Choir and Senior Ensemble.

Teachers were also occupied with many extras such as organ lessons, boys and girls glee clubs, piano lessons and regular classes. They assisted the Senior Girls' Quartet, Sophomore Girls' Trio-Quartet, Sophomore Boys' Quartet.

All music groups have been busy this year, and the Senior Quartet was no exception. This year the group consisted of Cindy McGinnis, Debi Stevens, Mary Poland and Stephanie Londene. The quartet performed at special occasions including pancake feeds, school concerts, local churches, recitals, Y-Teens and even a wedding.

Senior Mixed Ensemble also had a full schedule throughout the year. The group consisted of twenty-six seniors who were chosen in tryouts at the end of the 1979 school year. During the 1979-80 year they performed at many social gatherings including Fall Concert, Rural Life Thanksgiving Dinner, Vespers, Y-Teens, EHU Club meetings and various other events.



1) Boys' Glee Club. 2) Ella Frey participated in Fall Concert. 3) Men's Chorale. 4) Sophomore Boys' Quartet. 5) A scene is captured from Vespers. 6) Girls' Chorale. 7) Mrs. Mary Ann Saulmon teaches Leslie Bletscher. 8) Mixed Chorus. 9) Members are on the way to Vespers. 10) Sophomore Girls' Quartet. 11) Girls' Chorale. 12) Junior-Senior Choir performs for concert. 13) Dee Smith, in action.

Mike Excels on Trumpet

Sitting in the trumpet section of the band was sophomore Mike Hoover. He had proven himself to be an excellent trumpet player and played in various groups in band.

Mike became interested in music when he was in third or fourth grade. His sisters all played the piano, and his mother interested him in taking music lessons. Mike started playing the trumpet in the fifth grade. "I started playing the trumpet basically because I look at the trumpet as being one of the stronger instruments in the band," Mike said. "I also just enjoy listening to the trumpet."

When asked if his future plans included music, Mike said that it probably wouldn't have anything to do with the career he chooses, but he will probably "stay active in some music organization for a pastime."

Band Groups Active During School Year

Band director Larry Taylor had a busy year. Single handed he took care of the various band groups including Marching Band, Jazz Band, Pep Band and the Sophomore Combo.

During the fall months the Marching Band performed at all the home football games with only one exception. During the first part of the year, the band had fun as they traveled to Lawrence on a Saturday morning to participate in the KU Band Day. Also during the Fall both the band and all singing groups were involved in the Fall Concert.

The band played on through the Christmas season as they accompanied the vocal groups in the traditional Vespers.

Chapman was chosen this year to be the host of the annual NCKL Band Clinic which took place during February. Schools attending the clinic were Abilene, Belleville, Clay Center, Concordia, Marysville and Wamego. After a full day of practice the band members put on an all-school assembly.

Through the spring months musicians participated in a Spring Concert and an Instrumental Concert.

Drama Classes Open Can of Squirms

Drama students opened up a can of squirms, an impromtu act given by two students, and the results were something to be reckoned with. Under the direction of Mr. Dennis Maxwell, students dealt with everything from drug abuse to their best friend running over their cat.

The students all realized that drama wasn't the easy, slide class they thought it would be. Before the semester was over, they all discovered a new meaning to the word squirm, and they all did it countless times.

The students also put on an assembly for the student body, in which cuttings from some of the past plays at Chapman High School were used. It featured scenes from Diary of Anne Frank, The Wizard of Oz, Harvey and severl others. The groups who didn't perform their cuttings in the assembly got a chance to show their work the next week in another Room Five.

A Halloween show in Room Five was another project.

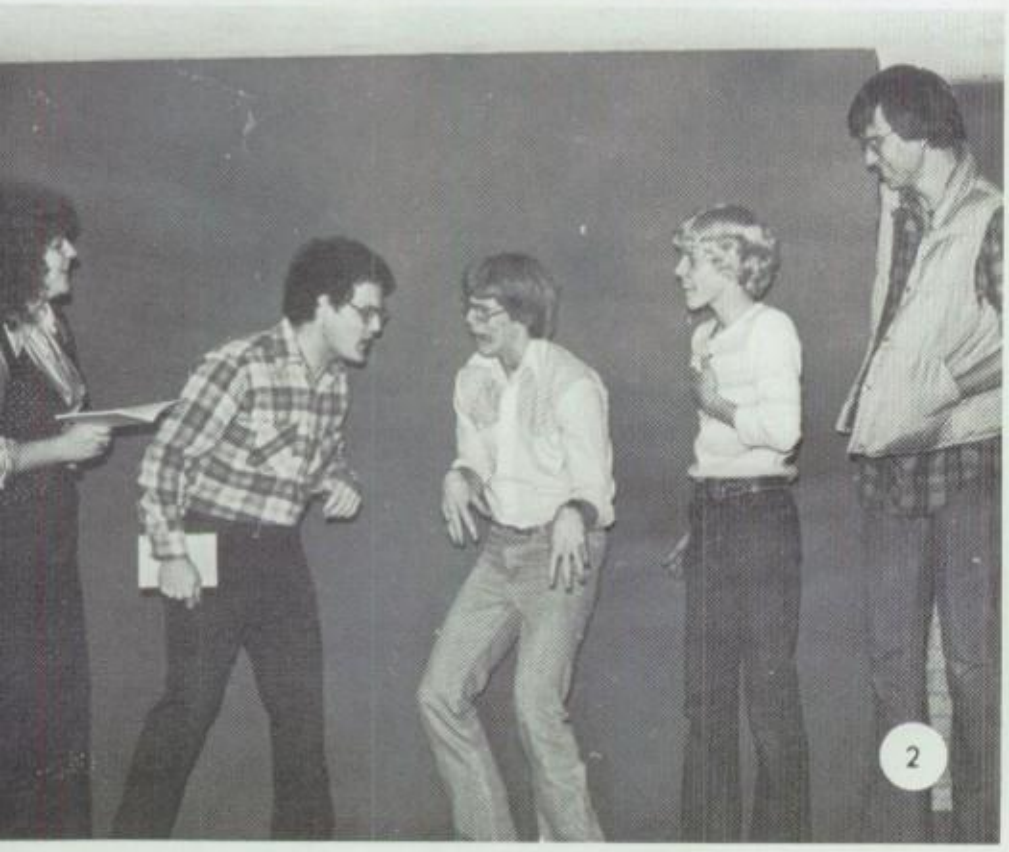
We Need A One!



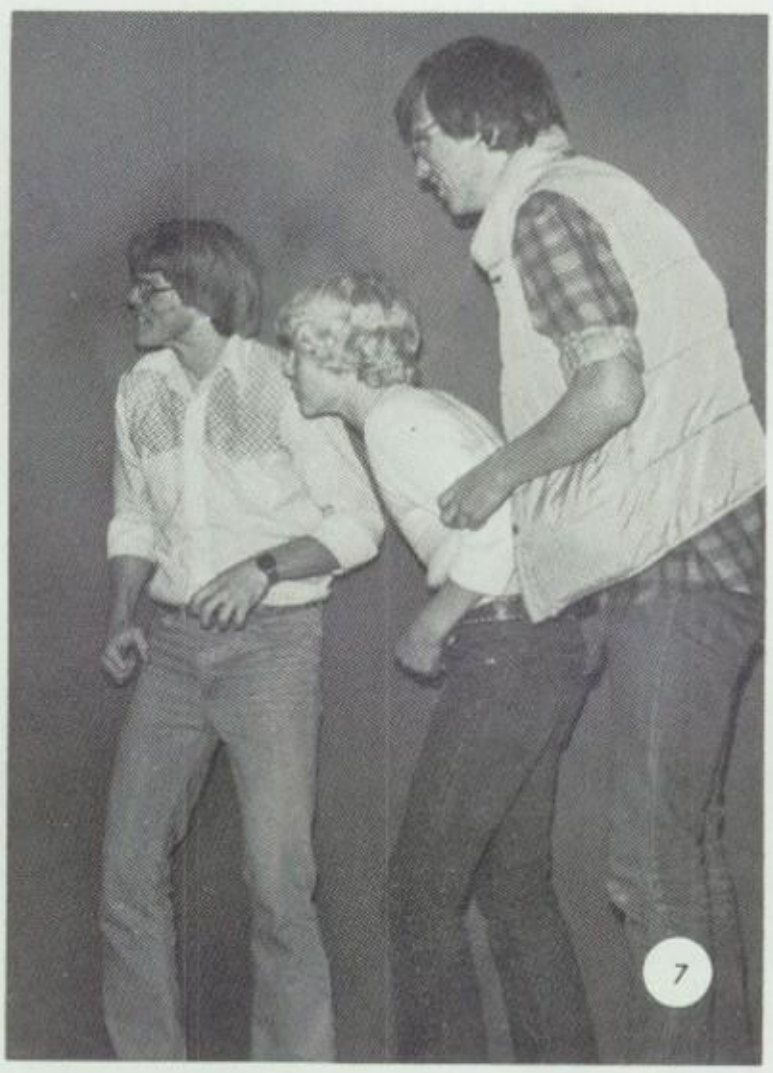
"We have to get a one and go on to State," Bob Norcross commented. That comment is commonly heard from forensics students and is something they all hope for.

Forensics is probably the most misunderstood class at Chapman High School. Forensics involves speaking and dramatic events, and students take their specific events to tournaments. The main goal is to get a one rating and go on to state competition.

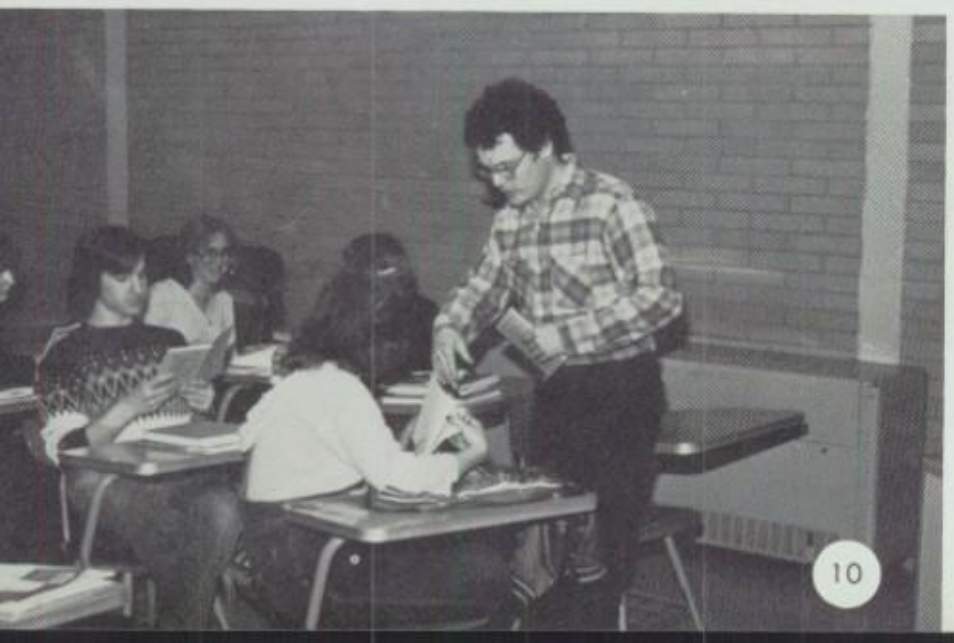
Different events include interpretation of poetry and prose, dramatic interpretation, improvised duet acting and extemporaneous speaking. A new event was added at some of the tournaments called Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Students usually work independently and are often spread out all over the school. According to Mr. Dennis Maxwell this class probably requires more self discipline than any other class offered. Students spend many long hours getting their events ready to take to tournaments, and Mr. Maxwell isn't always right there to keep them working.

The biggest problem the forensics students have is getting into tournaments. With a class of only eleven it's hard to get together a full entry, and most tournaments will choose a large school that can fill all the events over a small school that can only fill a few of them.



1) Mr. Dennis Maxwell is hard at work. 2) Maxwell and students are on stage. 3) Drama students Eddie Calloway, Marilyn Foerschler, Cris Olson perform in an all-school assembly. 4) What's so funny, Janet? 5) Janet Helwick and Glynis Greenstreet are attentive listeners. 6) Debbie Marion performs in the drama assembly. 7) Russell Thomas, Tom Greening and Dennis Longhofer enact a mean scene in class. 8) Greening and Rhonda Maxon do their part. 9) Kay Gillen is the innocent Prudence. 10) Maxwell aides students in the classroom. 11) Kathy Kirkbride does her research.



Good and Bad Found In Every Job

Two of the most important groups of people controlling CHS's daily functions were the janitors and the cooks. These people had some of the hardest jobs and also had some of the best dispositions. Clarence Engle, who started as a janitor for CHS in the fall of 1967, felt "there is always good and bad about every job." He said, "I enjoy being around all the kids and talking to them, but with all kids there is bad." All the janitors feel that what they hated to do more than any other thing was cleaning snuff out of the drinking fountains and off the floor. Kids will be kids!

The cooks had produced food for around 500 students. Not only do these meals have to be nutritious, but they must also be to the liking of the students (which is a very hard combination to achieve). Teed Sherraden, who worked for CHS for the last four years, said, "Trying to please all these kids is not an easy task, but one I enjoy because of all the different types of people I get to meet." Probably not all the students were satisfied all the time, but the trick that CHS cooks controlled was keeping most of the students happy most of the time — a job that should be commended because of all the labor and effort required.

1) Mrs. Teed Sherraden slices buns for the noon meal. 2) Male custodians Clarence Engle, Tom Durham, and Cecil Aumack take time out to pose. 3) Cooks prepare for serving. 4) Elva Elliott and Dorothy Mehl pause for the camera in their afternoon cleaning. 5) Cooks Margaret Jones, Redella Hettenbach, Phyllis Hassleman, Teed Sherraden and Florence Jones smile for a quick shot.

1000 Chapman Students Ride Buses

School District 473 has over 80 School buses according to Marvin Dreiling, Superintendent of Buses. Sixty-one of those buses are driven twice each school day on a regular bus route. Within the 574 square miles of school district over 1000 students ride a bus to school.

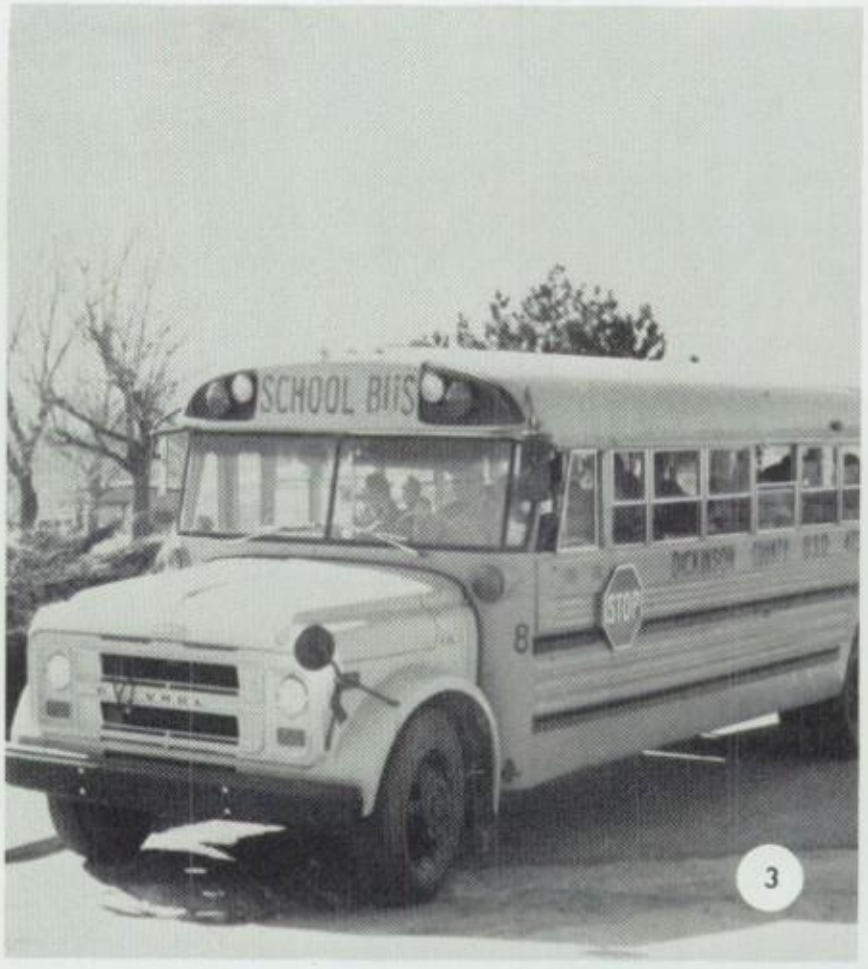
When asked how it feels driving a school bus, Clarence Engle, bus driver and CHS custodian stated, "I love to drive; I started driving for Rural Center in 1952 with my own car. Later on, in 1967, I started driving into Chapman. I even rode a bus while I was in high school. Back then, though, we didn't have any feeder buses like we do now; we had to meet the bus at the highway!"

Mr. Engle stated, "Another one of our drivers, Bob Gfeller, is in his thirty-second year of driving a school bus." Mr. Gfeller drove a feeder for two years while he was in high school and has been driving a large bus ever since. "I've hauled kids, their kids, and pretty soon I'll be hauling grandkids!" Mr. Gfeller stated.

When Mr. Gfeller was a student he pulled pranks on his bus driver. "One time I put limburger cheese on the manifold. If that doesn't smell good!" Mr. Gfeller laughed. "One time we even helped go in the ditch when it was muddy."

When asked how he started driving Mr. Gfeller stated, "I wanted something to work-out with farming. This way I farm nights, weekends and during the summer. It works out pretty good."

"I've had kids come out in their pajamas asking me to wait, and I've had such passengers as gerbils and snakes. One student always gets on the bus with a cup of coffee and some get on without their shoes. One Halloween somebody stuffed a whole bale of alfalfa in the bus. It doesn't matter where I park the bus — whether it's at home or two miles away — they always seem to find that yellow painted bus for their Halloween pranks."



1) Buses are ready to roll. 2) Directing traffic is Mr. Charles Cryderman. 3) Head 'em out! 4) And the school day begins.

Council Organized, Cheerleaders

Newly elected Pep Council sold school pennants this year as a money making effort. T-shirts were sold as another means of making money and boosting school spirit.

Pep Council was a new organization to the school and replaced the Pep Club. It consisted of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, StuCo representative, three representatives from each class and captains from each cheerleading squad.

In addition to sponsoring and planning the Homecoming activities, Pep Council sponsored a Senior Parents' Recognition night at the Chapman-Clay Center basketball game Feb. 19. This was only the second year for this event thanking the parents for their support of the teams. Kay Gillen, Pep Council president, drew the honored parents' names. Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough were called to come onto the court at half-time to receive their plaque from their niece, Kay.

Eckart Joins Coaching Staff

The coaching debut at CHS of Mr. Bradley Eckart was a very disappointing one, but as commented by Coach Eckart, "It was a totally new situation from previous years and didn't help.the seniors as much as it benefitted the younger players, as they know what to expect in the upcoming year."

The Irish had several players recognized as league standouts. Those selected were Kevin Bauman, named All-League Offensive Back; Barry Pearson, Honorable Mention Defensive Lineman; John Fansler, Honorable Mention Defensive End; and Mark Meyer, Honorable Mention Punter.

The season was highlighted with a banquet honoring the players and their parents. At the banquet the coaching staff gave several special awards including Best Blocker, Eric Hoover; Best Tackler, Kent Whitehair; Most Improved, Kalen Bebermeyer; and Shamrock Award or MVP, Kevin Bauman.

In Junior Varsity action, the Irish combined another winning season with a 4-3 mark. New coaches Mr. Steve Miller and Mr. Delmer Garrison guided the Irish in their winning efforts and look forward to a promising season next year on the varsity level.

B-boys Record 8-4 in NCKL

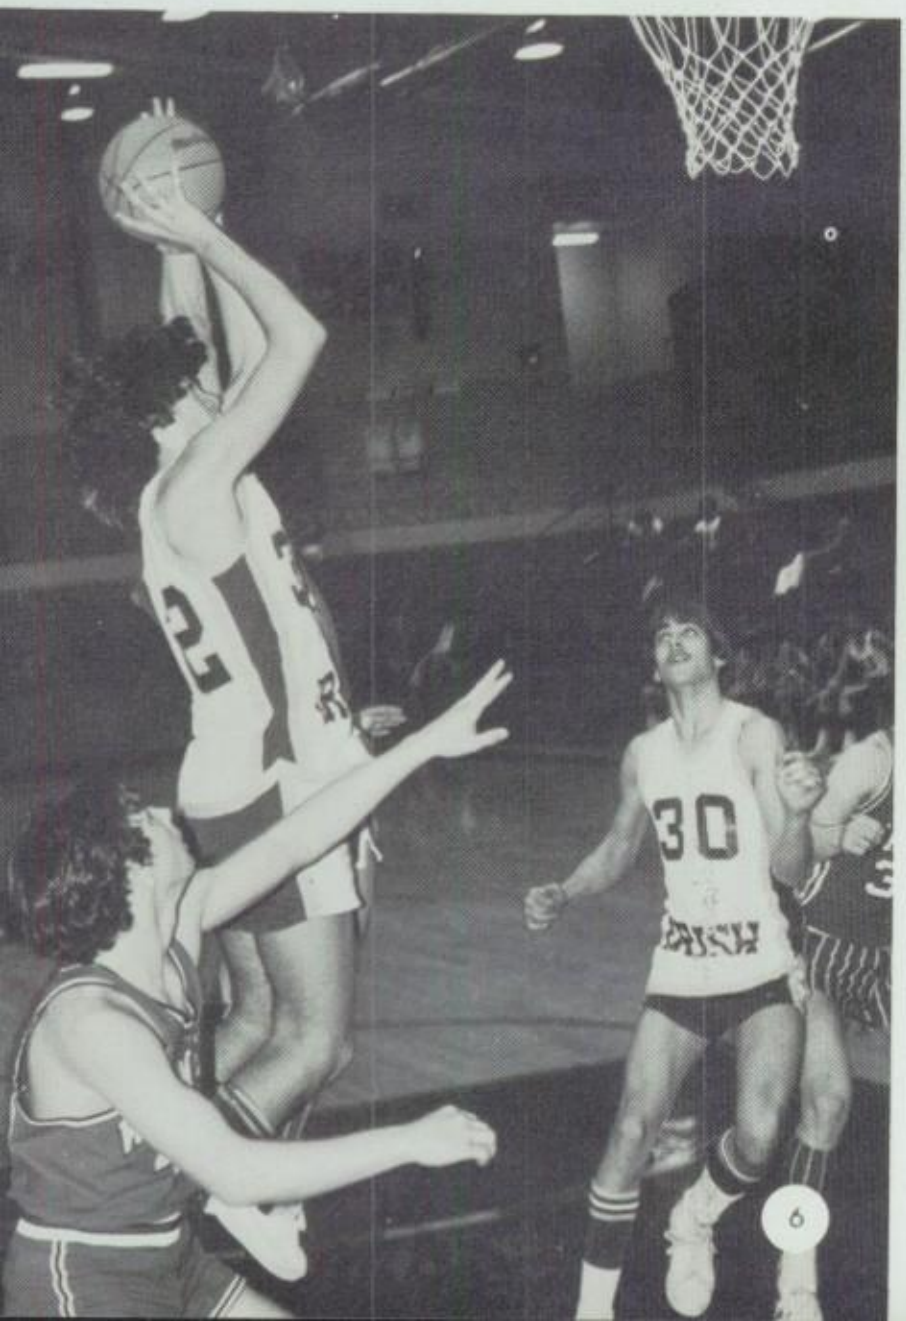
The thirteenth season for the Chapman Fighting Irish boy's basketball team, under head coach John Sanborn, was a success as they finished with a season record of 12-9 and a surprising record of 8-4 in the NCKL race, tying for third place with Marsville.

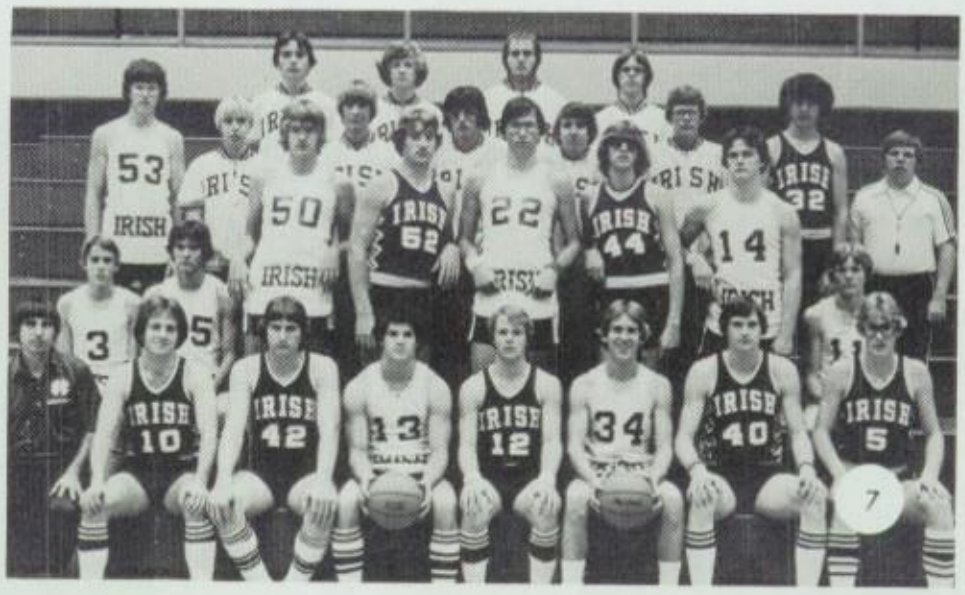
"I though that this year's season for us was better than what I had anticipated", commented John Sanborn. "Even though we had a shot at the league title, we really didn't expect it, due to the excellent teams in the race. Things seemed to fall in place at the right time, but we just couldn't get over the hump to be an excellent team," said Sanborn.

The teams that the Irish played were very tough. "With Junction City qualifying for State in class 6A, Shawnee Heights placed third in class 5A state competition, Council Grove and Marysville qualifying for class 4A State, you cannot ask for a tougher schedule than that. The season was tough from top to bottom," Sanborn said.

Highlights of this year's season were when the Irish had a five game winning streak, coming from behind to defeat Concordia, and coming back from eighteen points to defeat Council Grove in the last seconds of the game.

Other highlights included Scott Altwegg who set a new school record in field goal percentage connecting for 67 percent, defeating the old record which was held by Ted Knopp with 60 percent. Altwegg was also named to the All-League team. Kalen Bebermeyer grabbed second in the all-time assist mark with 148, just eight short of Clavin Schrader with 156. He was also named on the first team at the Topeka Capitol Invitational Tournament. Junior Pat McLaughlin was named honorable mention in the NCKL.





1) Kent Jaecke shoots for two while Scott Altwegg sets for a rebound. 2) Steve Lang watches the ball go through for two. 3) Mark Meyer is on his way down the court. 4) Scott Altwegg pulls down a rebound. 5) Brian Krinhop shoots for two while Pat McLaughlin drives in for the rebound. 6) Dan Jesch shoots for two during B-action. 7) The team poses before practice.

Track Weathers Rough Year

Track teams had a rough year in 1980. The Chapman Invitational was cancelled this year, due to bad weather, and the Marysville meet was postponed until April 14. It was questionable whether Abilene would have its track ready for its meets, with the track finished a few hours before preliminaries began. The Council Grove meet that was held at Abilene was complicated when the lights failed to work and the last events were held in the dark.

The boys' squad placed fifth in competition at the Abilene Regionals. Winning state slots were Shane Britt, who placed second in the 100 yard dash with a 11:2 time and Jeff McCullough, second in the 3200 meter run with a 10:5 time. Also qualifying for the State were two relay teams, one for the 400 (Kevin Bauman, Shane Britt, Brian Krinhop, Tim Meece), placing second at 44.53, and the 1600 meter (Mike Fink, Dan Jesch, Brian Krinhop, Kevin Bauman), placing third with a time of 3:31.08.

Girls Track Wins 6 of 8

Chapman girls' track finished with one of its most successful years ever. Led by seniors Sharon Beemer, Monica Mote, Iwonne Odle, Toni Wiley and Julie Wilson, the squad won six out of eight meets.

Beemer set a new school record in the 400 meter with a record of 59:1. She also ran in the relays, which took first, and won second in the league meet.

Mote retained her record in the 100 meter with a time of 12.5. Odle started out the year by breaking the 1600 meter record and then sustained an injury which hampered her the rest of the season. Wiley came out for track for the first time as a senior and proved herself successful in running the 400 meter and in the 1600 meter relay in which she received a fifth and first in the NCKL meet.

Six girls qualified for the State Meet: Mote in the 100 meter; Sharon Beemer in the 400 meter; Desiree Whitley, Coleen Fink, Beemer and Mote in the 1600 meter relay and Leslie Bletscher, Whitley, Wiley and Beemer in the 1600 meter relay.

Next year the girls should be strong again with returning lettermen Vahsholtz, Lauer, Fink, Herman, Bletscher, Whitley, Coffey and Jackson.

1) Sheila Plaggerman strives for a victory. 2) The team breaks for a quick shot. 3) Shawn Dorsch pushes on. 4) Monica Mote crosses the line. 5) Sharon Beemer pours it on. 6) Candi Vahscholtz is caught in mid-air. 7) Desiree Whitley smokes her opponents.

Runners Achieve Goal

"Congratulations, gentlemen, you made it," was the phrase Coach Pat Murray used to tell the varsity cross country runners that they had achieved their main goal for the year, going to State.

This season seemed to be the year for making goals into realities. Besides going to State, another goal was to have a recognition banquet, which was held Nov. 1. Jerome Howe, cross country coach at KSU, was the guest speaker. Coach Murray recognized the team for placing fifth at State, higher than any other team from Chapman had ever placed. Tim Miller and Wanda Jackson were most valuable boy and girl runners, while Kent Jaecke and Jill Bletscher were recognized as most improved. Jeff McCullough and Stan Perry were also recognized for being the first to complete the summer 500 mile club designed by Coach Murray.

Other presentations made were a pen and pencil set given to Paula McLaughlin for her services as manager. The team also gave a sweat suit to Coach Murray.

Highlights for the season include a third place finish at Buhler, Murray's first trophy, and a first place finish at Concordia. The junior varsity won nearly every meet and topped the season off by capturing the first six places at the NCKL meet.

Tim Covers the Miles

How would you like to travel an average of thirty to forty miles a week on foot, not walking bu running. That's what senior Tim Miller does during mid-season training of cross-country and track.

Tim not only runs in cross-country but also track, fun-runs and sometimes just to, "relieve tension like when I'm mad or want to keep my weight down."

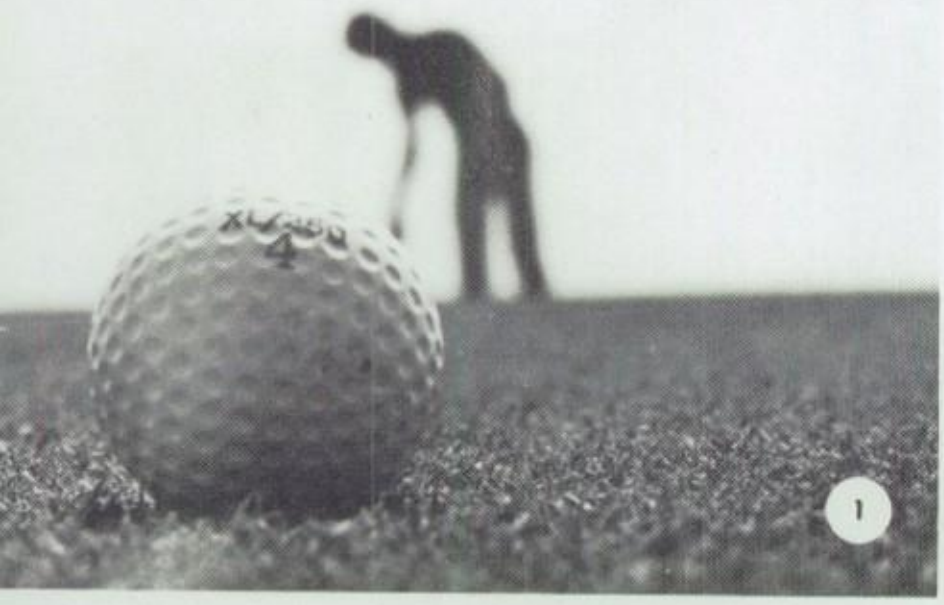
Tim lettered four years in track and two years in cross-country. "The other two years I went out for football," explained Tim. He was also co-captain of cross-country both years.

Tim plans to continue running after high school. He hopes to get a scholarship for track to Cloud County Community College.

When asked what it takes to make a good long distance runner Tim replied, "Dedication desire to win and hard work." Thayne Riffel, a former long distance runner and CHS graduate "urged me on," said Tim. "We would push each other and make each other faster."

Tim also commented that he wished "more girls would go out for cross-country and long dis tance track. They are relatively undeveloped sports for girls."

1) Wanda Jackson, number one girl runner, keeps pace on the toughest pa of the Clay Center course. 2) Members of the 1979 cross-country tea pose. 3) Co-captains Tim Miller and Jeff McCullough are successful in th attempts to make the NCKL team.



Golf Team Lacks Age, Experience

Chapman's golf team was young and inexperienced, and therefore failed to place individually or as a team at any of their meets.

They competed in the Abilene, Clay Center, Council Grove, Wamego and Minneapolis Invitationals.

There were 19 out for the team, and 6 of those were freshmen. "We have a very strong Freshman Class, and when those six are seniors, we should have a real good team," stated Coach Wendell Stull.

1) The mood of the day is captured. 2) Golfing in the Sahara! 3) Sand trap blues are shown by Steve Lang, Jeff Roudybush and Dan Schmidt. 4) Steve Lang tries to make par. 5) Careful!

Frosh Sports Reviewed

Freshman footballers finished their season 1-6. Coached by Phil Weishaar and Tony Frieze, the highlight of their season was when they defeated the Wamego Red Raiders 16-6. Weishaar, commenting on the year said, "As with most freshman teams, it takes a while longer for them to learn the game. This group took a little longer than some, but they have quite a bit of talent. It's just a matter of reaching this potential."

The freshman girls' volleyball team had a very profitable season, highlighted by a victory over the Concordia C-team, the first time in seven years. Regular starters during the year were Desiree Whitley, Pam Rutz and Kaye Whitfield. Robin Loader was the team manager.

The freshman girls finished their winning basketball season with the A-team 7-3, and B-team 5-1. The girls finished second in their tournament held at Abilene. At the tournament they were defeated by the host team in the final round of action. Coach Harold Oakleaf commented, "I feel we had a successful season. In the future they should do pretty good, if they keep working hard."

The boy's freshman basketball team finished with a winning record of 7-5. Coached by Phil Weishaar, they finished third in their own tournament, losing first to Abilene, then beating Riley County in the consolation match. The B-team finished 7-2.

With only thirteen freshman boys participating at the Abilene Invitational, the Frosh track team finished with a second place above Abilene, Marysville, Clay Center, Council Grove and Wamego, but were defeated by Concordia. Hopefuls for next year are Lonnie Chaput and Mike Fink.

This year's girls' track team was combined of fifteen members, three of them showing a lot of varsity action. "There is a lot of depth in this year's Freshman Class; most of them compete on the varsity squad such as Leslie Bletscher, Desiree Whitley and Wanda Jackson," commented Coach Mary Blick. Highlights included Wanda Jackson breaking the 3,200 meter run in 13.01.6.

Freshman tennis is combined of four improving members. A highlight this year was Hollis Worthen earning a varsity letter. Hollis may, at the end of his senior year, be only the sixth person in Chapman history to earn a letter in four years of tennis.

Intramurals Provide Variety of Sports Fun for Students

Many students were able to participate in a variety of sports in intramurals and have fun with fellow students. The activities took place during second hour on Tuesdays and from 3:00-3:30 during specific activity periods.

Some of the sports included badminton, table tennis, basketball, bowling, volleyball, archery, chess, handball and tennis.

When Director Tony Frieze was asked how he felt about the intramural activities, he replied, "It gives kids the chance to participate in a sport they like."

StuCo Has Active Year

Student Council has had a very active school year with Laurie Wright as president and Mrs. Janis Haugh and Mr. Forrest Flippo as sponsors. For moneymakers, StuCo members sold valentines, sponsored the Senior-Faculty basketball game, (in which the Senior Class of '80 won 67-33), the Christmas Dance and the Freshman Orientation Dance.

StuCo joined students and faculty in sending Miss Barbara Moses an autographed copy of the 1979 CHS yearbook while she was in the Wichita Hospital.

StuCo sponsored several assemblies, such as pantomime Wayne Milnes; Mr. Novak, a magician; Daryl Aryes who sang country and western; and the Yates Family Singers with Joanne (Cash) Yates, Johnny Cash's sister.

In other areas, StuCo helped with the purchases of new American and Kansas flags. StuCo took first place in the float contest before the Chapman-Abilene football game. StuCo hosted a "get-to-know-your-StuCo-members" party in September for the faculty and organized a pop break for the band clinic held at Chapman Feb. 6.

AFS Holds Dance-a-thon

AFS opened the year with a dance-a-thon. It lasted 12 hours with 10 minute breaks every hour. The adult AFS Chapter sponsored the marathon and served dinner for the dancers.

Two foreign exchange students attended Chapman this year, Ana Maria Pineda from Honduras and Berit Lamp Hansen from Denmark. Ana spent the year with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Root's family, and Berit stayed with the Reverend and Mrs. Richard Near family.

AFS members Aaron Ford, Marilyn Foerschler, Robin Flippo, Berit Hansen and Ana Pineda participated in a Junction City exchange program with six AFS members from Junction City.

FHA Members Hold Watermelon Feed

FHA girls participated in many activities this year. In August they attended Leadership Camp in Manhattan. On Labor Day they entered a float in the Chapman Parade. To welcome the new members in September they had a watermelon feed at the park.

FHA Fall conference was held in Clay Center in October. They also hosted the Twirp Dance in the month of April and attended the FHA State meeting held in Topeka. Eleven participants (selected on a point basis) were chosen to attend.

February 10-16 was FHA Week. During this week, many special activities took place, including a Valentine party, a visit to the Chapman Valley Manor, a red and white day and a cookie sale.

One special project of FHA was to support the March of Dimes. During October two speakers out of the Salina March of Dimes office spoke to the club.

During the Easter holiday, members entertained elementary school children with the Easter bunny giving out baskets.

FFA members participated in various district contests in land, ag mechanics, livestock, public speaking, leadership, dairy judging, green hand conference and creed conference. FFA members participated in the Labor Day Barbeque, the spirit parade (in which the death mobile received third place), and sponsored the FFA Sweetheart Dance. Ecology Coordinates Wildlife Week

The Ecology Club was very industrious this year. In coordination with the National Wildlife Week during March, the club sponsored a wildlife poster contest and purchased the slide show "Save A Place For Wildlife" for the school district. The club purchased several other films for the district adding up to over $280. They also gave a $150 donation to the arboretum near Wakefield for a pecan tree.

Their money maker this year was the annual Mother's Day plant and flower sales. The Ecology Club collected aluminum and took a field trip to the arboretum this year.

Two of their programs included a wild plant and flower identification trip in room 5 with Ron Parks, CHS English teacher, and a presentation on hydrogen and other renewable fuels by Forrest Flippo, CHS librarian.

This year's officers included Kathy Kirkbride as president, Christine Hansen as vice-president, Cindy Turner as secretary, Tina Louis as treasurer, and Robin Flippo as StuCo representative. Mrs. Seymour was the adult sponsor this year.

FCA Holds Dogpatch

Chapman's Fellowship of Christian Athletes participated in the annual Dogpatch competitions and sponsored an athletic queen and king crowning during the Concordia-Chapman basketball game. Shari McCullough was crowned queen and Kalen Bebermeyer was crowned king.

FCA also sponsored the second annual alumni basketball game in November. The two teams consisted of the Green Team which was made up of senior lettermen from the classes of '68, '71, '72, '75, '76, and '78. The Gold Team which was the defending champion, won again this year, 113 to 104. Its members were graduates of '69, '70, '73, '74, '77 and '79.

FCA joined together with Y-teens and presented several assemblies for both clubs. Steve Lang was president of the organization and Shari McCullough was StuCo representative.

Due to conflicts with sports, night meetings were an impossibility this year.

Hi-Y Founded in 1889

Chapman Hi-Y is the oldest organization of its type in existence. Hi-Y was first founded in Chapman in 1889. Since then it has grown into a world wide organization with over 4,000,000 members in more than 9,000 clubs.

Chapman's Hi-Y members traveled to McPherson in October to Pre-legislature. Bills were written to be taken to McPherson. Those attending were grouped with other Hi-Y members from other schools to evaluate their bills.

In November Model Legislature was held in Topeka, where Hi-Y members played the part of senators and district representatives trying to get their bills passed.

Y-Teen sponsors, Mrs. Betty Lewis, Mrs. Jeannine Lewis and Mrs. Pam Shuman were pleased with the year's events. Activities throughout the year included various service projects, such as drives for the Kidney Foundation and cancer research, the collection of broken toys, visiting a nursing home, having a new-student orientation and preparing packets for the fall conference; socials, such as going to movies, rollerskating and a taffy pull; money-makers such as concession stands and the selling of Irish stocking caps, which were new this year, along with the selling of class pins.

Highlights of the year included the Dad-Daughter Banquet, with the theme "Falling For Dad," the hosting of the annual Fall Conference in Manhattan, the Mother-Daughter Tea, held in the Spring, and Heart-Sis Week in February.

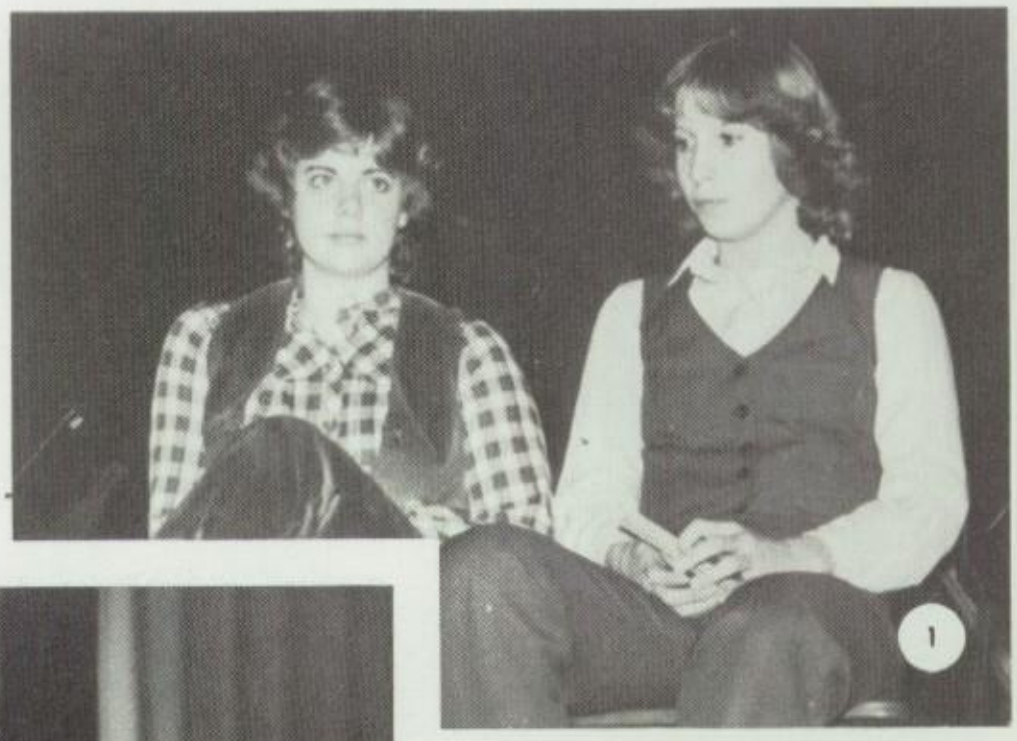
Assemblies Bring New Experiences

Assembly committee members this year included Mark Meyer, Jeff Tudor and Robin Flippo. The assembly committee was part of Student Council. They tried to have a good variety of assemblies, every other week or at least two each month.

Two companies sent information to the school on assembly possibilities, the Student Council picked two or three that they wanted to pay for. They usually placed one assembly in the Fall and one in the Spring. Other assemblies were sponsored by clubs or other schools that traveled to CHS. Sometimes the Student Council heard about free assemblies and sent for information on them.

Committee members picked assemblies that students could learn from or ones that they wouldn't normally have a chance to see. Robin Flippo felt that assemblies are like having a seventh class; they bring in new types of experiences that aren't found in the classroom.



1) Lori Hoffman and Kristie Kientz wait their turn to give speeches for Stuco president. 2) Arlan Bevermeyer, Bruce Dyson, Kirk Kelly and Greg Noel sing "The Frog Song" during their quartet assembly. 3) Sugar-n-Spice perform for Y-teens. 4) Eric Hoover and Barry Pearson assist escape artist John Novak. 5) Milt Rawlings, Dick Traskowsky and Ron Parks discuss the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

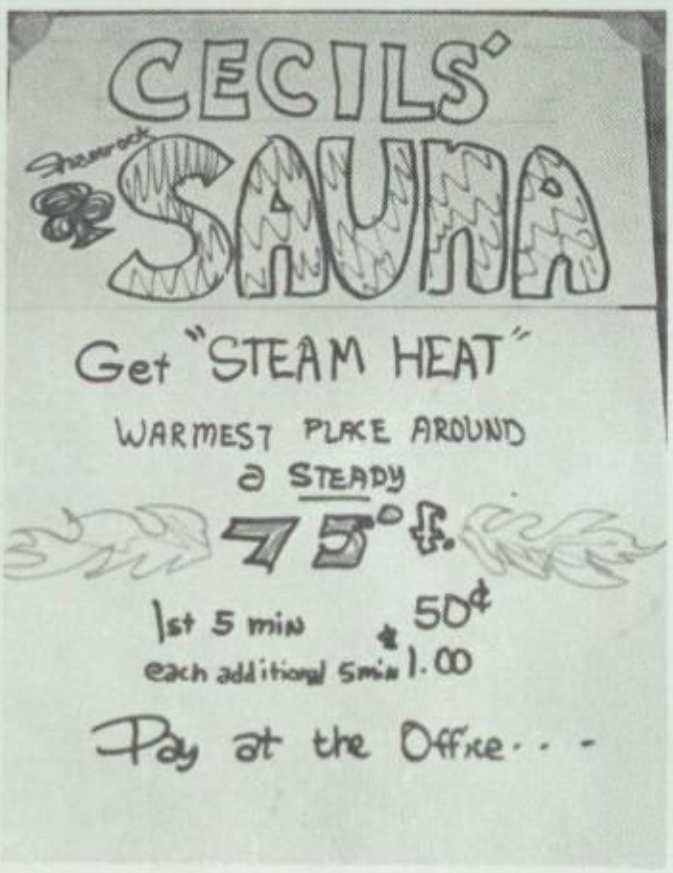
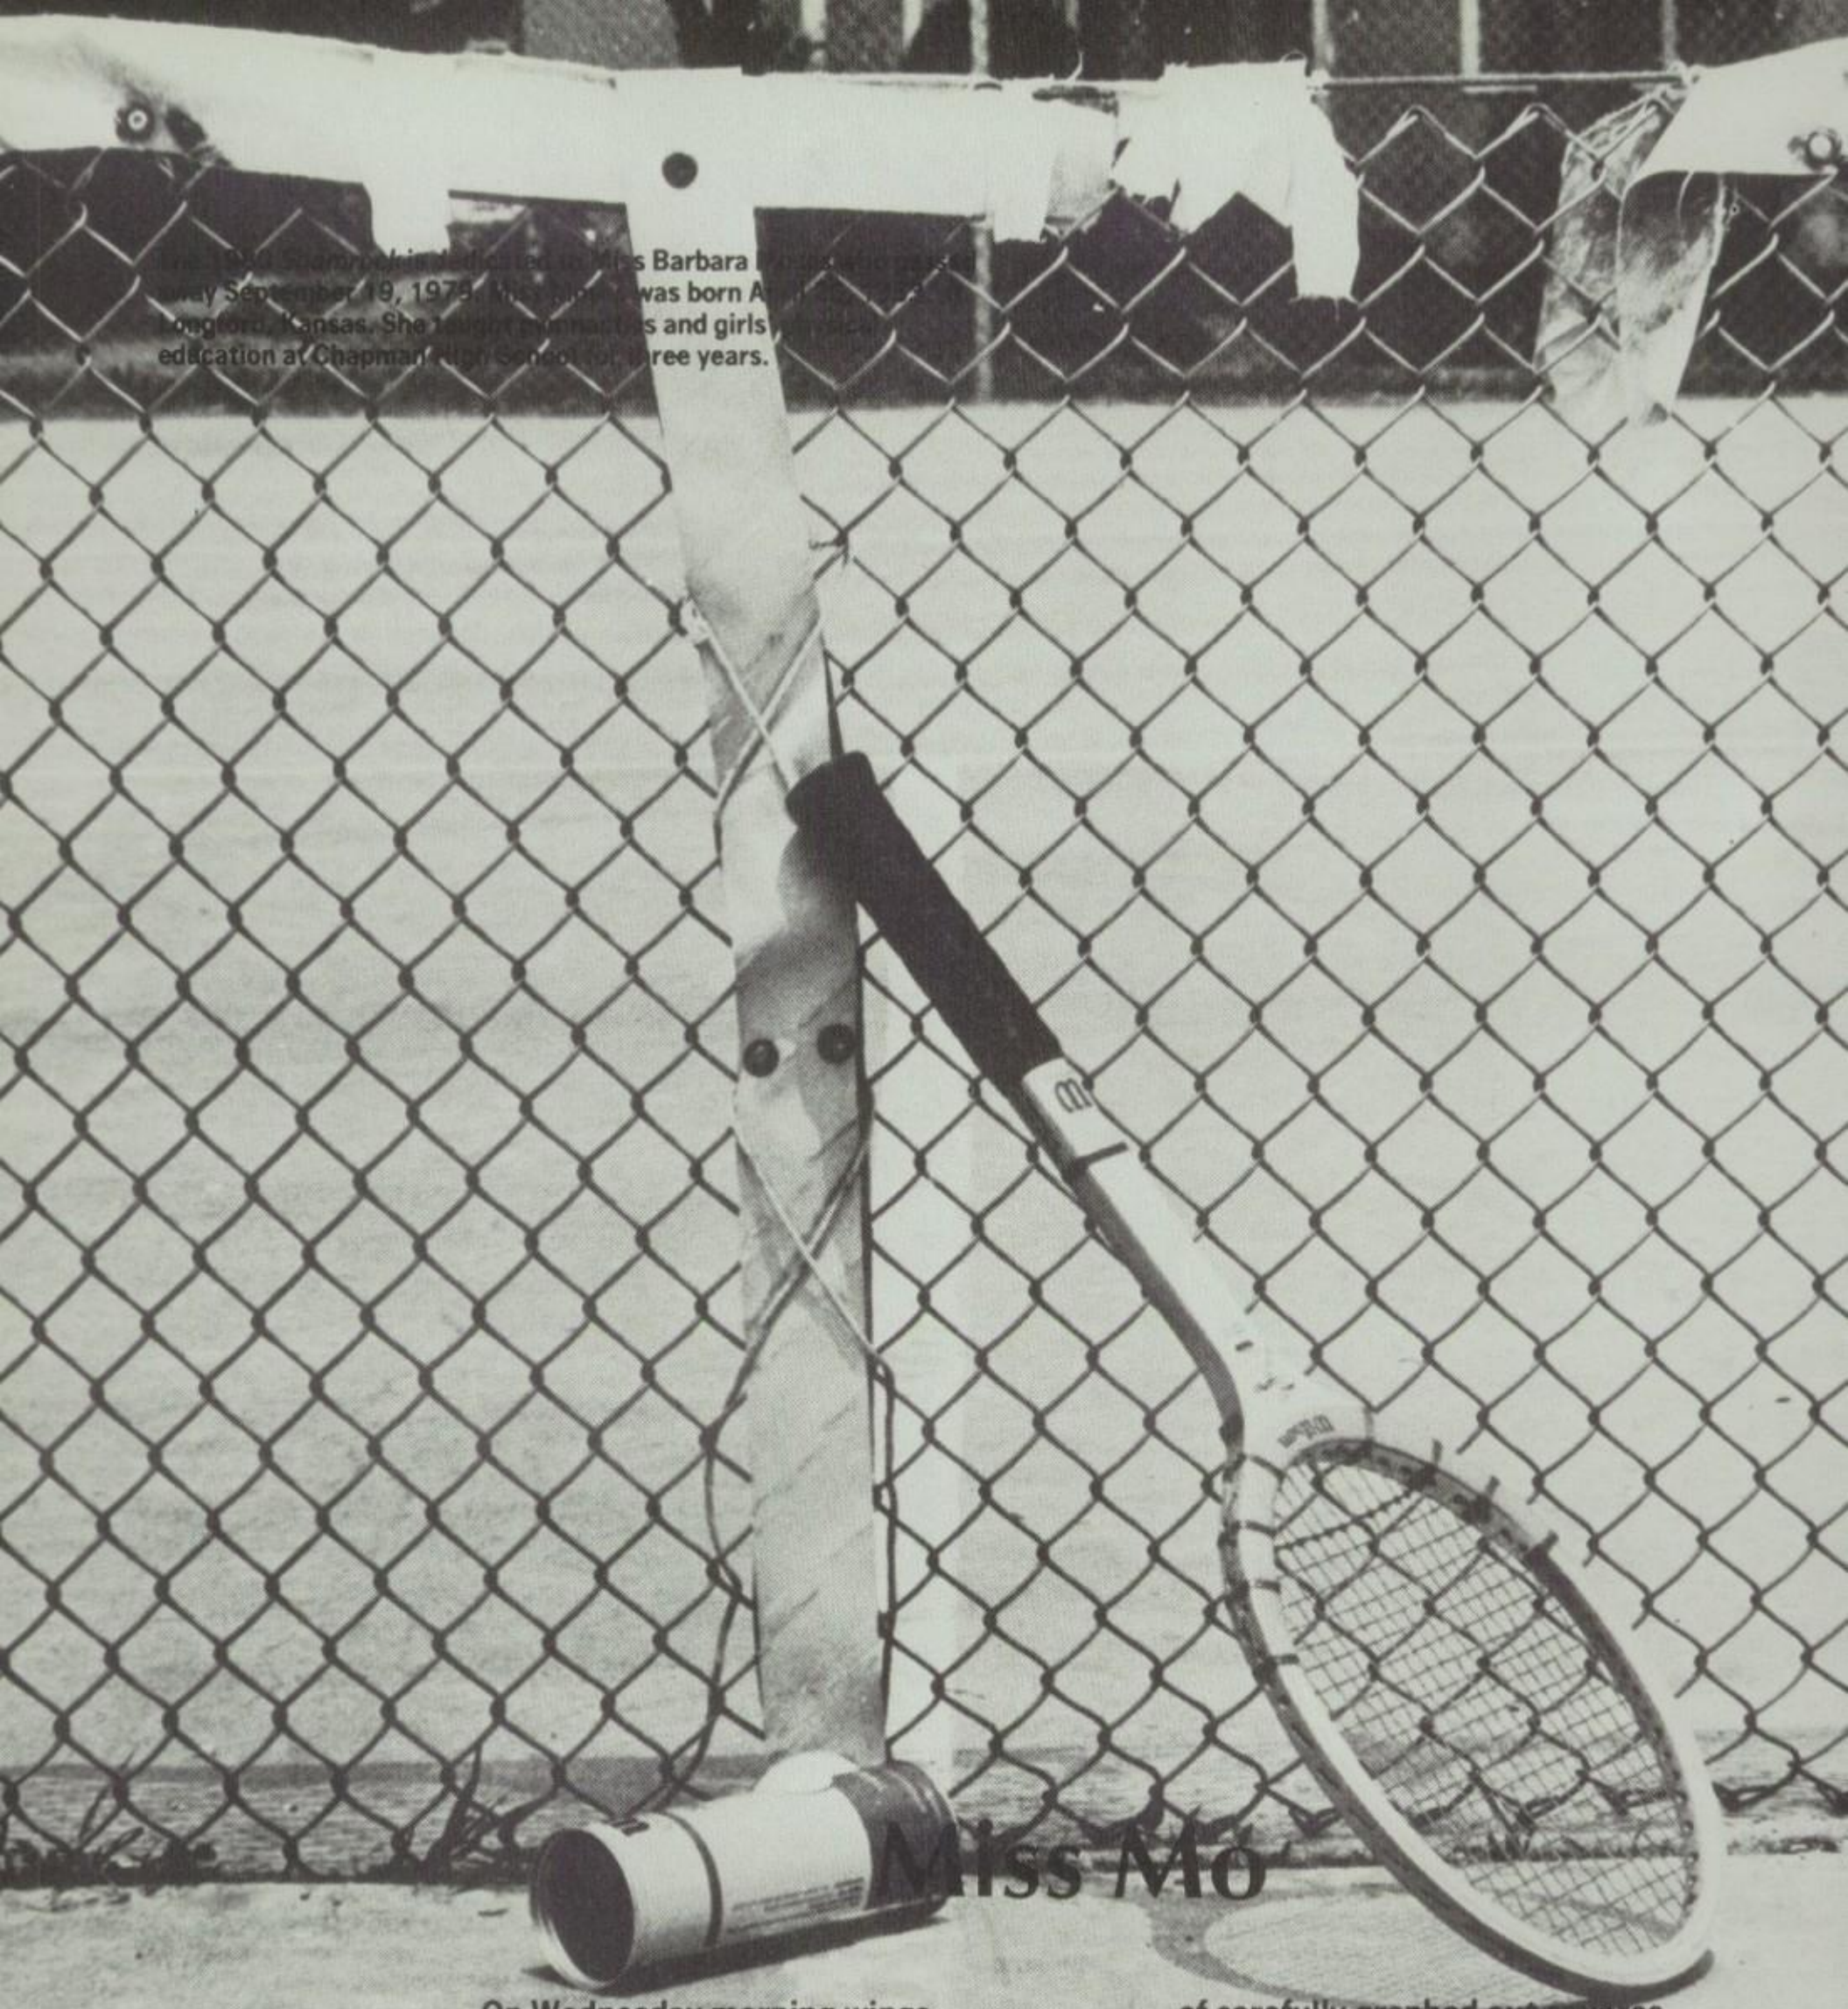
PICTURE THIS 1980

This picture in my mind is a bursting flame of color — a moment blue, yellow, and gone again. But I remember; the pages remember, and smile with faces far-gone now. So now we know it was too much, too little, too awful and wonderful to describe, or ever fully understand.





Miss Mo'

On Wednesday morning wings
she flew away and left behind a soft autumn afternoon, tennis balls bouncing like little yellow suns.
Flipping a tattered calendar back to April,
she waits there with a lighted smile and a strong shoulder.
But pages flip back quickly and she is lost in a maze of carefully graphed out squares.
Crickets creak as evening approaches and dusky darkness awakes.
Shadows put to sleep the past
while a crisp autumn breath blows the calendar pages forward — onward into numbered tomorrows.

Wednesday night can cry.
Let Thursday morning
ask the reason why.
